

We're all familiar with Maryland's sales tax, but far fewer people know anything about the use tax and when they must pay it. In fact, every state with a sales tax also has a use tax. The use tax is imposed on items you paid less than 5% sales tax on when you purchased them outside of Maryland. The use tax requires you to make up the difference in Maryland sales tax.

You can use the form below to report and pay the tax. The tax is due quarterly, and the due dates are shown to the right. If the due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, then the return or voucher is due on the next business day.
